ABOUT ME

As a passionate and self-driven programmer, I bring a robust foundation in C, C++, Java, Python, and Frontend Development. My hands-on experience in building and maintaining diverse projects on GitHub showcases my commitment to continuous growth and technical expertise. Currently, I am immersed in new projects that deepen my problem-solving skills and allow me to explore emerging technologies. Proficient in Linux fundamentals and Bash scripting, I excel in efficient system interactions and automation. I am dedicated to ongoing learning and improvement in the field of software development.
